How to find the MAC address of your Mac workstation or MacBook docking station

1. Open System Preferences on your Mac

   !System Preferences

2. Select Network from the list of options

   !System Preferences Network

3. On the next page, select the connection that you are finding the MAC address for. If you are finding the MAC address for your iMac workstation, then just select “Ethernet”. If you are finding the MAC address for your MacBook docking station, then select the option that reads “Pluggable...”. You can see how both options look on the list.
4. Once the correct connection is selected, click on the Advanced button at the bottom right. You will see a menu pop up. On this new menu, select the tab for Hardware.

5. The MAC address of the device is the first item on this list. If you have any issues finding this, please submit a ticket for assistance.